Tour 1

LEGENDS & LAUGHTER

Sample Itinerary

Day 1

George Rogers Clark National Historical Park

Duration: 1 hr.

The largest national monument west of Washington D.C stands on the site of former British-held Fort Sackville. In commemoration of a momentous Revolutionary War victory, this massive granite memorial was erected to honor Colonel George Rogers Clark and his brave soldiers who, in a surprise capture, reclaimed the fort in February of 1779. Clark and his men marched through Illinois and across the frigid, flooded waters of the Wabash River during this daring military maneuver. The Park's Visitor's Center* displays period exhibits and features a film on the significant Revolutionary War victory.

(*Handicap accessible)

Indiana Military Museum & Annex

Duration: 1 ½ hrs.

Awe-inspiring comes to mind when you encounter the Indiana Military Museum. The museum rightly claims one of the best comprehensive collections of military artifacts in the Midwest, spanning the Civil War through current military engagements. Exhibits outside include displays of military aircraft, tanks, vehicles, artillery and a submarine reproduction. Inside the museum you will find more vehicles, uniforms, insignia, equipment and related relics. The expansive annex features settings representative of the WWI era through the post-Vietnam War era.

Old Cathedral Complex & Library/Museum

Duration: 1 hr.

The current Basilica of St. Francis Xavier, "Old Cathedral," is Indiana's first church. Parish records date back to 1732 when the first Catholic parish in Indiana was formed. The current Old Cathedral was built in 1826 and stands on the site of its three previous churches. Four bishops are buried in the church's crypt and the adjoining cemetery is the final resting place of over 4,000 early citizens of Vincennes. The Library/Museum houses the oldest library in Indiana containing over 10,000 rare books, displays and documents. The collection's oldest document is a papal bull issued by Pope John XXII in 1319.

DAY 2

Red Skelton Museum of American Comedy

Duration: 1 hr.

Red Skelton gained his fame through his genius sense of humor. He shared his comedic talents with the world and because he will forever be Vincennes' favorite son, the dream of a museum named after him was formed. Years after, with diligent work, that dream became a reality and the Red Skelton Museum of American Comedy opened its doors to the public. Interactive exhibits, showcases displaying a look into Red's career, and tributes to other great American comedians await you at the museum.

Grouseland

Duration: 1 hr.

Grouseland, a stately Federal mansion, was completed in 1804 and home to William Henry Harrison and his family during his term as Governor of the Indiana Territory (1800 – 1812). This National Historic Landmark also served as the principal site of public and official business of the territory. While at Grouseland, Harrison frequently entertained legislators and other guests and dignitaries, and held meetings with native tribal leaders negotiating important land treaties. Grouseland is also designated as the presidential home of Harrison, our 9th U. S. President.

Vincennes State Historic Sites

Duration: 1 hr.

These three historical landmarks at the Vincennes State Historic Sites hold great significance. Walk through the original Indiana Territory Capitol to see where Governor Harrison made decisions that changed the future of the entire Midwest during his tenure from 1801 - 1812. Step into the past at the Jefferson Academy, Indiana's first college founded in 1801, and view an authentic Ramage press in a replica of Elihu Stout's Print Shop. Stout published Indiana's first newspaper in 1804, the Indiana Gazette.
